SAINTHOOD at The Baxter

Sainthood is a theatrical play that was made in 2017 at the University of Cape Town from a collection of true stories from interviews conducted by the director and playwright, Tiisetso Mashifane wa Noni. The interviews were centred around the masculine culture cultivated in male dominated spaces such as unisex schools. From there, the interviews and articles were amalgamated into a five person play called 'A Tragic Conversation on the Persistence of Sainthood' that took these interviews and fictionalised them into the lives of five fictional adolescent boys at a fictional elite South African all-boys school as they come to terms with their identity, sexuality, race and academics within a brotherly culture that is not as saintly as it seems. At the 2018 National Arts Festival, Sainthood was awarded a 2018 Standard Bank Ovation Award.

WOZA ALBERT! at The Baxter

The Baxter Theatre Centre is proud to present THE ORIGINAL WOZA ALBERT, starring THE ORIGINAL CAST Mbongeni Ngema and Percy Mtwa, who will grace the Baxter's main stage from 5 February to 2 March 2019. South African theatre giants Mbongeni Ngema and Percy Mtwa will reprise their original roles, which they created four decades ago, in one of the most brilliant classics, Woza Albert! This internationally acclaimed play, directed by Christopher John, is set to make local theatre history with this revival. At the height of apartheid, the two actors asked a simple question, "what would happen if Christ returned to present-day South Africa?" Ngema and Mtwa developed the stage play with renowned theatre-maker, Barney Simon. It went on to become a world-wide phenomenon and a celebrated example of hard-hitting political satire, touring the world during the late '70s & '80s
